SHEREE A. ROBINSON, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

MENU FOODS, a foreign corporation,

Defendant.

C 07-0666 RSL
No.

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

Plaintiff Sheree Robinson ("Plaintiff"), by and through her undersigned attorneys, brings this civil action for damages on behalf of herself and all others similarly situated against the above-named Defendant and complain and allege as follows:

I. NATURE OF ACTION

1. Plaintiff brings this action as a Class Action under Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure on behalf of all persons who purchased any dog or cat food that was produced by defendant Menu Foods and/or has had a dog or cat become ill or die as a result of eating the food.

2. The Defendant is a producer of, inter alia, dog and cat food. Menu Foods produces dog and cat food sold under familiar brand names such as Iams, Fukanuba and Science Diet. Menu Foods distributes its dog and cat food throughout the United States to retailers such as Wal-Mart, Kroger and Safeway.

SEA 9019 NO 7584

3. Dog and cat food that the Defendant produced caused an unknown number of dogs and cats to become ill, and many of them to die.

4. To date, Menu Foods has recalled 50 brands of dog food and 40 brands of cat food that have sickened and killed dogs and cats. All recalled food to date is of the "cuts and gravy wet" style.

5. As a result of the Defendant's actions, Plaintiff and other Class members have suffered economic damage.

II. PARTIES

6. Plaintiff Robinson has at all material times been a resident of Seattle, Washington. Ms. Robinson had a pet that became sick and died after eating Defendant's pet food.

7. Defendant Menu Foods is, upon information and belief, a corporation organized under the laws of Canada that transacts business in Washington State.

III. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

8. Subject-matter jurisdiction is proper under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(1) because the Plaintiff's and Defendant are citizens of different states and the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000.00. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction over the state-law claims under 28 U.S.C. § 1367.

9. Venue is proper in this judicial district under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(a) because the Defendant systematically and continuously sold its product within this district and Defendant transacts business within this district.

IV. CLASS ACTION ALLEGATION

10. Plaintiffs bring this suit as a class action under Rules 23(a), (b)(1), (b)(2) and (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, on behalf of themselves and a Plaintiff Class (the "Class") composed of all persons who purchased any dog or cat food that was produced by the Defendant and/or has had a dog or cat become ill or die as a result of eating the food. Plaintiff reserves the right to modify this class definition before moving for class certification.

1           11.     The Class is ascertainable and there is a well-defined community of interest
2 among the members of the Class.

3           12.     Membership in the Class is so numerous as to make it impractical to bring all
4 Class members before the Court. The identity and exact number of Class members is unknown
5 but is estimated to be at least in the hundreds, if not thousands considering the fact that Menu
6 Foods has identified 50 dog foods and 40 cat foods that may be causing harm to pets.

7           13.     Plaintiff's claims are typical of those of other Class members, all of whom have
8 suffered harm due to Defendant's uniform course of conduct.

9           14.     Plaintiff is a member of the Class.

10          15.     There are numerous and substantial questions of law and fact common to all of 11 the members of the Class that control this litigation and predominate over any questions affecting 12 only individual members of the Class. The common issues include, but are not limited to, the 13 following:

14               (a)     Was the Defendant's dog and cat food materially defective, and unfit for 15 use as dog or cat food?

16               (b)     Whether Defendant breached any contract, implied contract or warranties
17 related to the sale of the dog and cat food?

18               (c)     Did the Defendant's dog and cat food cause Plaintiff's and other Class
19 members' pets to become ill?

20               (d)     Were Plaintiff and other Class members damaged, and, if so, what is the 21 proper measure thereof?

22               (e)     The appropriate form of injunctive, declaratory and other relief.

23          16.     The prosecution of separate actions by members of the Class would create a risk
24 of establishing incompatible standards of conduct for the Defendant – for example, one court
25 might decide that the Defendant is obligated under the law to pay damages to Class members,
26

1 and another might decide that the Defendant is not so obligated. Individual actions may, as a
2 practical matter, be dispositive of the interests of the Class.

3 17. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class in that she has
4 no interests that are antagonistic to other members of the Class and has retained counsel
5 competent in the prosecution of class actions to represent herself and the Class.

6 18. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient
7 adjudication of this controversy. Given (i) the substantive complexity of this litigation; (ii) the 8 size of individual Class members' claims; and (iii) the limited resources of the Class members,
9 few, if any, Class members could afford to seek legal redress individually for the wrongs
10 Defendant has committed against them.

11 19. Without a class action, the Class will continue to suffer damage, Defendant's
12 violations of the law or laws will continue without remedy, and Defendant will continue to enjoy
13 the fruits and proceeds of its unlawful misconduct.

14 20. This action will foster an orderly and expeditious administration of Class claims,
15 economics of time, effort and expense, and uniformity of decision.

16 21. Inferences and presumptions of materiality and reliance are available to obtain
17 class-wide determinations of those elements within the Class claims, as are accepted
18 methodologies for class-wide proof of damages; alternatively, upon adjudication of Defendant's
19 common liability, the Court can efficiently determine the claims of the individual Class 20 members.

21 22. This action presents no difficulty that would impede the Court's management of it
22 as a class action, and a class action is the best (if not the only) available means by which
23 members of the Class can seek legal redress for the harm caused them by Defendant.

24 23. In the absence of a class action, Defendant would be unjustly enriched because it
25 would be able to retain the benefits and fruits of its wrongful conduct.

26 24. The Claims in this case are also properly certifiable under applicable law.

35. As a result of the breach Plaintiff and Class members suffered damages that may fairly and reasonably be considered as arising naturally from the breach or may reasonably be 12 seq., and similar statutory enactments of other states (including consumer protection and

15 portion of the public and to affect the public interest.

16 42. As a result of Defendant's unfair or deceptive acts or practices, Plaintiff and other
17 Class members suffered injuries in an amount to be proven at trial.

21 of Uniform Commercial Code Article 2.

22 45. Defendant's conduct as described herein constitutes breach of an implied or
